

PUBLIC HEARING ON R. F. WAGNER'S 5-CENT FARE BILL

Assembly's Railroad Committee to Hear Arguments
To-Morrow Night.

BILL CERTAIN TO PASS

Former Opponents Have Been Whipped Into Line by Public Sentiment.

Assemblyman Robert F. Wagner, champion in the Legislature of the Evening World's Five-Cent Fare bill, which was killed in the Senate last year by the treachery of certain New York railroad Senators, has been pushing a new bill in this session. After considerable difficulty he has secured the consent of the Railroad Committee of the Assembly for a public hearing on the bill to-morrow night.

The bill is practically the same as that which Mr. Wagner introduced last year, and which passed the Assembly. It was prepared by Mr. Wagner after exhaustive study of local transit conditions and laws, and has the approval of Attorney-General Johnson. There is no doubt about the Five-Cent Fare bill, which will insure a five-cent fare from the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn Bridge to Coney Island, passing the Assembly, nor is there any great question as to it will pass the Senate, always, however, bearing in mind that the railroad lobby is particularly strong in the upper house of the Legislature.

Senator McCall in the Senate last night substituted the Wagner bill for his own. As soon as the Assembly passes this measure the Senator will push it through the Senate.

DETECTIVE CALLED ON GRAFT CHARGE

Corbally, of Newark, Calls as Witnesses Men Who Worked Up Case Against Him.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 28.—The trial of Detective Sergeant Thomas J. Corbally, of Police Headquarters, on indictments alleging "graft," was begun today in the Court of Quarter Sessions before Judge Ten Eyck and a jury. The trial was to have opened a couple of weeks ago, but as there were rumors about concerning alleged actions of both the State and defense in connection with some of the panel of jurors that were likely to be at the trial, the case was postponed for a week.

The struck panel from which the twelve jurors were to be selected was picked by Judge Ten Eyck and the men were in court today.

The indictments against Corbally charge him with receiving accepted money from the proprietors of disorderly places to protect them. The State has four of these persons who it is alleged will testify against Corbally. The defendant will attempt to show that some of all of those have been induced to testify by promises of immunity, thereby making the indictments hanging over them.

Among others whom the accused has subpoenaed as witnesses are Sheriff Sommer, Under Sheriff Charles Mason, other attaches of the Sheriff's office who had something to do with the gathering of evidence against him and some of the court officers. Through them he hopes to show the methods that he says were resorted to in order to get the evidence on which the indictments against him are based. It is expected that the trial will last several weeks.

INVALID WOMAN ROUTES BURGLARS

Mrs. Joseph Miles, daughter of William O'Connell, one of New York's richest men, is lying ill at her father's home, No. 559 West One Hundred and Fifth street, as the result of a severe fright given to her last Wednesday night, when two sneak thieves entered her bedroom.

Mrs. Miles is the wife of an attorney, recently attached to the Corporation Counsel's staff, and was visiting her parents' home, anticipating a slight operation shortly to be performed on her. While the family was at dinner she was lying in her room on the second floor.

The diners were suddenly aroused by Mrs. Miles' screams of fright, and when Mr. O'Connell and his wife reached the daughter's room she had collapsed. A physician was called, and when the woman had regained consciousness she told of the burglary.

"Not getting a reply, I turned my head and saw two men. They looked like young fellows, and, discovering they had been seen, one said in a low voice: 'Beat it, Jim.' The other disappeared just as I called for help."

The intruders had come through the roof scuttle, and got away the same way.

SHOT INTO CROWDED ROOM.
SAGINAW, Mich., Jan. 28.—William Menzenko, a miner, has been brought here under arrest from Swan Creek, a mining settlement, fourteen miles from this place, charged with the attempted murder. Menzenko is alleged to have discharged a shotgun in a boarding-house assembly room when the place was crowded with boarders, four of whom were injured by the shot. It is stated that some of the men had been drinking heavily and that Menzenko became enraged at being made the butt of their taunts.

POLICEMAN HIS "PAL," BURGLAR SAYS TO CAPTORS

Ryan Declares to District-Attorney He Worked Under Plans.

Policeman George Dawkins, of the Adams street station, Brooklyn, was made a prisoner to-day upon the statement of Scott Ryan, arrested on a burglary charge, who claims the officer as his partner. Dawkins denies that there is any truth in the alleged confession of Ryan.

"Send for Capt. Max Stenbruck," said Ryan to the desk sergeant, when he was brought into the station by Police Officer Fred Widenberg. "I am going to break a cop."

Ryan, with another man, who gave his name as John Boyd, had been arrested early to-day when breaking into the hardware store of Shaffenberg Bros., at Myrtle avenue and Bedford street.

"You have a cop named Dawkins, eh?" began Ryan to the captain, who nodded. "Well, he has done me dirt and I am going to square it. He is my pal, and he put me up to do the job. He wanted me to tackle a millinery store further up Myrtle avenue, but I won't."

Here Capt. Stenbruck stopped the prisoner and sent for Inspector Flood, who notified Assistant District-Attorney Elder.

"You are making a serious charge, which, if true, will cost a policeman his uniform," said the captain.

Meantime Dawkins' record was looked up, and it was found that on March 30 last he was arrested charged with larceny by John Farley, who lived at the Mills Hotel, Manhattan.

Farley alleged that he was lured into a Myrtle avenue saloon by Dawkins and another man, and that they robbed him of $12.

When the case was called in the Adams street court, Dawkins proved an alibi, and witnesses testified that Farley was intoxicated. The policeman was discharged.

To the surprise of Inspector Flood and Assistant District-Attorney Elder, Ryan said: "I was Dawkins' partner last March, when we went up a guy named Farley and got $12. Farley said he had $12, but he didn't."

Ryan insists that Dawkins told him last night that he was hard up. The self-confessed burglar said that the policeman promised to look out for him and his pal.

Policeman Wendenberg has the adjoining best to Dawkins' best. So circumstantial sounded the story of Ryan that Mr. Elder arrested him under the charges from which he was freed last year.

Dawkins is twenty-seven years old, married, and was appointed Nov. 17, 1906.

BOURGET SHOWS DIVORCE EVILS AT WORST IN PLAY.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Paul Bourget to-day discussed his play "Divorce," which is to be presented here to-night. He said it was his purpose to emphasize the growing evils of divorce, which he contends is fatal to the preservation of the family as a social unit.

He cites America as the country where divorce has become an institution, and he says the possibility of divorce leads people to enter marriage lightly, to separate and to return to other words, it is legalized polygamy and a Pharisaical cloak for preserving the appearance of morality necessary to social stability while sacrificing conditions thereof. In conclusion Mr. Bourget said to-day there were only two horns to the dilemma—a return to the indissoluble marriage or free union.

THREE DRUGGED, NEW "GIRL" GONE AND ALSO $1,500

Agency Keeper Who Recommended "Mary" to Molice, May Lose Her License.

Efforts are being made to find "Mary" and separate her from $1,500 of easy money she took when she disappeared from the home of Francis Molice, No. 314 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn. Before leaving "Mary" took the precaution to drug Molice, his wife and their son, for she as a new servant and didn't know how soundly they slept. Mr. Molice has a stained glass making shop, No. 109 Court street, Brooklyn.

Mrs. Molice engaged the servant at Mrs. Blaha's agency, No. 47 East Seventy-second street, this city. It is charged that Mrs. Blaha recommended Mary, the only one the new girl gave, though she knows nothing of "Mary" and had not registered her. Commissioner of Licenses Bogart has ordered Mrs. Blaha to show cause to-morrow why her license should not be revoked.

"Mary," a small woman with dark complexion, hooked nose and prominent teeth, slept in a little room next to Mr. and Mrs. Molice's bedroom. In the servant's room is a small safe in which Mr. Molice put last Thursday $1,500 with which he was to make a last payment on his house. The safe was carefully locked.

The Molices are usually awakened by an alarm clock at 4:30 A. M. Mrs. Molice awoke at 8:30 Friday morning with a splitting headache and a burning sensation in her throat and on her tongue. So had her husband and son when she aroused them. The safe key had been taken from Mrs. Molice's pocket, the safe was open and the $1,500 and Mary were gone. She had told the Molices that her husband lives in Brooklyn, and that she had found him there. His name is Kuchnera. He said his wife left him several years ago. Molice has pointed out the safe to a Mrs. Rice on Greenwich street, near South Ferry.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean? It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to any one to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs?

Come and See. Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told?

Come and See. Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any Mrs. Pinkham now to whom sick women are asked to write?

Come and See. Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential?

Come and See. Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents?

Come and See. Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women?

Come and See. This advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it, but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.
